

Academy Magic Newsletter

When I think of love, it is often in the context of things I love to do. It is such a privilege for me to be the director of the Lindamood-Bell Academy. Every day, I get to work with teams of talented, passionate individuals who are all committed to creating a magical learning environment for our students. I see the joy and success of our students from far and wide as they learn to love learning.

There is a phrase: "When you love what you do, you'll never work a day in your life." I, like so many of us here, feel privileged to have my profession and passion merged into a job I love, students who capture my heart, and staff who pour their hearts into their every day. We love what we do and we love that we get to share it with you.

Dallin Wride in Scottsdale, AZ

Dallin has been a student at the Scottsdale Learning Center for many years, working on reading, comprehension, and math. When he first came to our center, his mom, Katie, shared her goals for him, and they were all related to work skills: following directions, communicating clearly, and, responding quickly to questions. At that time, Dallin's completion of high school was not a part of her plans for him. When he enrolled in Lindamood-Bell Academy, we were all excited. We were thrilled to know that, as his high school teachers, we would become a part of his life story.

Dallin is a kind and sweet young man who has become quick-witted, expressive, charming, and funny over the last few years. We've learned as much from him as he has from us. Interested in "scary things," Dallin has taught us so much, spooked us a bit, and we always wound up laughing together.

The entire Scottsdale Learning Center Team is so thrilled for Dallin's High School completion. We hope he stays in touch, so we can continue to watch him grow.

Shine on Cast

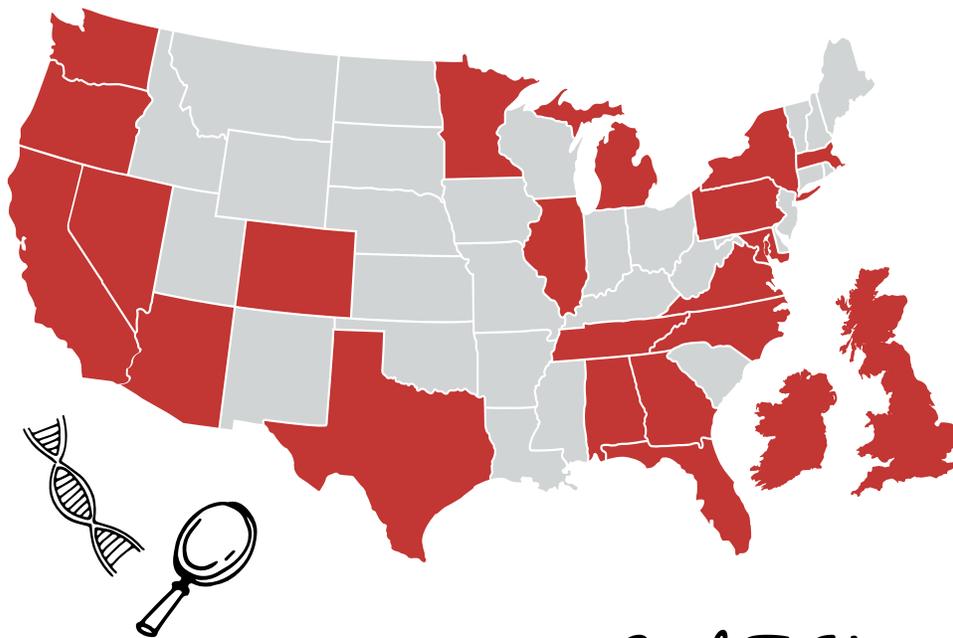

Scottsdale Star Cast

In Scottsdale, our Academy students range from grades 1-12. Sara DeSantiago, our Academy Consultant, and Amanda Stumpf, our Associate Center Director, work tirelessly to ensure that the Academy is an amazing place for these children to go to school.

A great addition to the Academy this year is our lunch buddies, Julie and Maisy. They both help make lunchtime and AMS hour really friendly and fun. Everyone eats and chats together. The students enjoy by-design projects, and we enhance them with Julie's bag of tricks (she's SO creative). They have also been doing read-alouds since the beginning of the year (James and the Giant Peach was a favorite across the grade levels). A few times this year we have invited parents in at lunchtime—which everyone enjoyed, and we look forward to doing this again on Science Fair Day.

Good To Know

It's Science Fair month! Our students across the globe are already hard at work posing hypotheses, conducting experiments, and compiling research. The Science Fair will be hosted at your local learning center on Friday, February 28th. Contact your local team for specific times.

PS. We need a specific Yearbook Release from each student's parent or guardian in order to share photos and stories of success in our annual yearbook! Yearbook photos will be taken during the week of March 9, 2020, and all students must have releases by that time. You will be contacted by your local learning center with the permission form this month.
